January 1, 2026

Dear Members,

Happy New Year! After a 2025 that was filled with extraordinary cuisine, fantastic collaborations, and too many unforgettable moments to list, it's time to dive straight into our biggest year yet.

We begin 2026 with beautiful eel from the kitchen and two final tastings of the season that will bring down the house. In just a few weeks, Mario will host his fourth annual Cigar Night - one of our favorite traditions. To top it all off, we're getting ready to unveil a new nightlife venue that will likely be the talk of the town.

Here's to a magnificent year ahead.

Warmly,

Jeff, Mario, and Rich

"And suddenly, you know. It's time to start something new and trust the magic of beginnings."
— Oprah Winfrey

FROM THE KITCHEN

Uni

Throughout January, you'll be able to indulge in three absolutely fantastic types of sea urchin: Hokkaido, known for its deep umami and clean texture; Santa Barbara, famous for its rich, creamy sweetness; and Maine, prized for its bright color and briny flavor.

We begin our month-long celebration of sea urchin with thinly sliced Hokkaido Scallop Carpaccio topped with Hokkaido uni and dressed with yuzu kosho, ponzu, and lime. From the sushi bar, the Trio of Virgin Features Maine uni with shio kombu, Santa Barbara uni with black sesame salt, and Hokkaido uni with Golden Osetra caviar.

FROM THE BAR

Five Spice Daiquiri

The Five Spice Daiquiri is at about refined winter comfort. To create this spin on the Hemingway-era classic, Head of Beverage Dan Nathan O'Neill drew inspiration from the philosophy of five flavors - sweet, sour, bitter, pungent, and salty. Specifically, he wanted to channel how five spice powder is used to balance rich flavors in Asian cooking. As it turns out, it works just as beautifully with Caribbean rum.

THIS SUNDAY, JANUARY 11TH,
we are delighted to welcome the iconic

momofuku

for the fourth installment of our ZZ's Tailgate Series.

Momofuku, of course, needs no introduction. But it's important to note our shared histories as young chefs, Rich, Mario, and David Chang worked together at Café Boulud. Years later, our first restaurants burst onto the scene during the same magical era in New York City dining.

For this tailgate, Team Momo will bring their signature Asian-American innovation to ZZ's, complete with exclusive twists crafted just for our Miami fans.

Come ready to place your bets, enjoy limited edition ZZ's x Momofuku merchandise, and indulge in a one of a kind menu.

A Very Merry Christmas Indeed

From our family to yours, thank you for making one of our favorite days of the year even more memorable.

Chinese Christmas was a joy. There really is no better way to celebrate the holidays than with dim sum, cake, great company... and The Emperor's Duck Feast!

December 2026 isn't come soon enough.

Leo's

Later this month, we are very excited to unveil Leo's, a cocktail bar and lounge that brings a much needed dose of refinement to Miami nightlife. Discreet and selective, it is the world class social space that we have long dreamed of having in this wonderful city; we suspect many of you will feel the same way. Tucked away on the second floor of Chateau ZZ's, Leo's will serve as a home for the most discerning of guests: a place to let the hours roll by while sipping extraordinary cocktails, graceful hospitality, live DJs and a soundtrack like no other. We look forward to welcoming you, our Members and Friends, for many years to come.

Stay tuned for more details on Leo's opening date!
