Dear Members,

At the end of this month, we'll once again find ourselves on Miami Beach, celebrating with many of you at the fifth edition of our legendary supper club on the sand... CARBONE BEACH. As we approach this Major milestone, the best and brightest in the MFG family understand the mission: to make history.

The weeks leading up to the big event should go by in a flash: Easter is just around the corner, as is the return of our exclusive engagement with The Global Champions Arabian Tour. Meanwhile, The Sports Bar will be buzzing thanks to the Final Four, Masters, and NBA Playoffs.

We haven't even mentioned what the kitchen and bar teams have prepared for you this month...

Warmly,

Jeff, Mario, and Rich

FROM THE KITCHEN

ZZ's Legends

For a change of pace, this month we celebrate two legendary dishes from the ZZ's canon: the Carpaccios of tuna and beef. They were among the first dishes to appear on the menu at the original ZZ's Clam Bar in New York, the jewel box destination for incredible cocktails and extraordinary raw fish down the block from Carbone.

What makes this pair so special? For one thing, it's the jaw-dropping quality of the ingredients. The beef carpaccio is crowned with Hokkaido uni, Black Diamond Golden Osietra caviar, beautiful lobster meat, and 1923 Quatita Supriorre Olio Verde. Meanwhile, the yellowfin tuna carpaccio features Hokkaido scallop, Grade A Hudson Valley foie gras, and the same excellent olio as the beef preparation.

In less capable hands, these could be a bit too over-the-top. Even gaudy. But here, it's a matter of perfect harmony.

FROM THE BAR

The Vice Versa

This month at the bar, we're flipping the switch on the Miami Vice, the frozen classic synonymous with the neon lights of our city. It's called the Vice Versa, and apart from being stirred, not frozen, it features mezcal and Campari. This brings the flavor profile closer to a Negroni than the traditional blend of Pina Colada and Strawberry Daiquiri — although those two are still also in the mix. It's another home run from Nathan McCarley-O'Neill.

Easter Sunday

Those who've joined us in the past know that Easter Sunday in Miami is best celebrated at ZZ's. Your Club will be open for both brunch and dinner, serving the complete menu à la carte. If you wish to visit one of our other properties, the teams at Sadelle's, Carbone Vino, and Chateau ZZ's would be thrilled to welcome you.

That's all we can share for now. Please note that Saturday is now officially sold out, so don't wait to book your table for Friday or Sunday!
