June 2, 2025

Dear Members,

We could spend days recapping CARBONE BEACH, but ultimately, words fall short. Thank you to all of our members who joined us for our supper club on the sand to help make it the best year yet! We honestly can't decide which epic night of performances was our favorite - from Jelly Roll to T-Pain to the Fugees, we are so grateful to have shared three unforgettable nights with you all.

Looking ahead, we can't wait to dive into the summer season. You'd be hard-pressed to find another restaurant in Miami serving hand-foraged, first-of-the-season morel mushrooms of such peerless quality as we currently are. We also can't think of a more intimate or exclusive space to take in the NBA Playoffs and FIFA World Cup than in the comfort of the Sports Bar.

So have yourself a Crown Melon Margarita, settle in, and enjoy your second home. It's going to be a truly lovely summer.

Warmly,
Jeff, Mario, and Rich

"If a June night could talk, it would probably boast it invested romance."

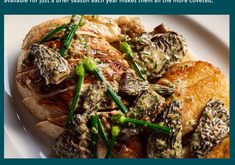
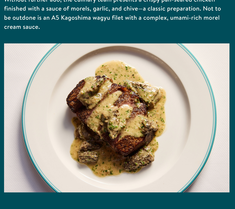
FROM THE KITCHEN

Morel Mushrooms

We are very happy to report that our foragers and farmers up north have collected the first morel mushrooms of the year, and that they are now appearing on two stunning dishes at your club. If you are not familiar with morels, it's not an exaggeration to say that these are the incredible savory, meaty mushrooms that every chef worships. The fact that they are only available for just a brief season each year makes them all the more coveted.



Without further ado, the culinary team presents a crispy pan-seared chicken finished with a sauce of morels, garlic, and chive--a classic preparation. Not to be outdone is an A5 Kagoshima wagyu filet with a complex, umami-rich morel cream sauce.



FROM THE BAR

The Melon Margarita

In Japan, where certain fruits are regarded as luxury items, The Crown Melon is king--and its season is now. Harvested in Hamamatsu, these muskmelons are simply ideal for sunny-season cocktails. The Melon Margarita, for example. After aging the melons until overly ripe to maximize freshness and flavor, we juice and shake with Patrón blanco tequila, which has a light, herbaceous quality that amplifies the delicious star ingredient.

Extra, Extra

A SPECIAL SUNDAY WITH MOM

A heartfelt thank-you is in order for all those who joined us for a gorgeous Mother's Day at the club. While the feast was filled with highlights, what made the occasion truly memorable was the sight of so many families making memories in this space: it's all that we could ever hope for, and we look forward to all the celebrations to come.

KICKING OFF SUMMER SCREENINGS IN THE SPORTS BAR

It should go without saying, but The Sports Bar will only get more exciting as we head into the summer. For starters, we have the nail biters that await us in the final stretch of the NBA playoffs. Take it from three New Yorkers: it has been so much fun to witness Knicks history being made with our Members at both locations. And just as the NBA Finals heat up, we'll dive straight into the excitement of the FIFA Club World Cup, kicking off on June 15th and running until July 13th.
